1. Driver Certificate of Professional Competence

Since 10th September 2008 and 10th September 2009 you must hold a Driver Certificate of Professional Competence (Driver CPC) in order to work as a professional driver.

A person who has already passed a driving test in licence category D or C and has taken out a driving licence before the relevant date will have an entitlement to the Driver CPC which is valid for a 5 year period. However you are required to complete one days training per year.

The Driver CPC Case Study Theory Test is a specialist case study exam for those who wish to become either a professional Bus or professional Truck Driver. The test includes three case studies, with fifteen multiple choice questions for each case study and lasting two and a quarter hours.

If you wish to apply for a Bus and Truck CPC Qualification, you are required to have passed both the Bus Theory Test & Truck Theory Test OR the combined Bus & Truck Theory Test. However you must complete the individual Driver CPC Case Study Tests – Step 2 for both Bus & Truck.

For more information on Driver CPC please visit www.theorytest.ie or www.rsa.ie and click on the Driver CPC icon.
